Highlights of '91

In a year of ups and downs throughout the world, Didsbury had more than its share of good times. In the top photo, hundreds of school children took part in Participation Day; eager volunteers spruced up the old train station in preparation for its official opening; work began on restoration of the historic Hiebert House; and lots of people were interested in seeing the STARS air ambulance up close.

About 20 years after our Dad became diabetic and shortly after my brother Ronny was diagnosed one as well, Ronny and I had a little chat.

"Here are the 4 Fs of diabetes," Ronny told me counting them off on his fingers, "one - Female, two - Fat, three - over Forty, and four - in the Family."

"Thank you dear brother," I told him, "your information cheers me right up. You realize of course that you have given me about a 98% chance of developing the disease."

"It's something you should know," he insisted, "something we should all be aware of and watch for."

There wasn't much I could do about Fs one, three and four, over the years I did work on two, sporadically and with varying degrees of failure. I lost 30 lbs. before we went to Norway and gained back most of it during the trip. Lost 20 before I went to England and because we walked miles every day and were not entertained by the fabulous cooks of Norway I lost another five while we were there. This gave me such a reassuring sense of security that that when I came home I backslid and regained the pounds on my own cooking.

Most diets suggest that you drink lots of water and that has never been a hardship for me. We have good water here on the farm and we keep a pitcher of ice water in the frig. Last summer I noticed that the pitcher seemed to need refilling more often than usual and by harvest time I was drinking enough water that I just kept a glass in the frig next to the pitcher. I also complained bitterly about the time I wasted in the bathroom and threatened to leave my mending basket in there so that my frequent trips wouldn't be a complete waste. I also found that I couldn't get to sleep at night without having had at least one huge glass of water.

When the cold weather and snow hit in October I was almost relieved. I didn't have the energy to do fall yard work anyway and what little cleaning up had been done was with minimum enthusiasm and maximum effort. The wheelbarrow had never seemed to cumbersome, when did the rakes and spades get so heavy and if God wants grass in the flower beds who am I to say otherwise.

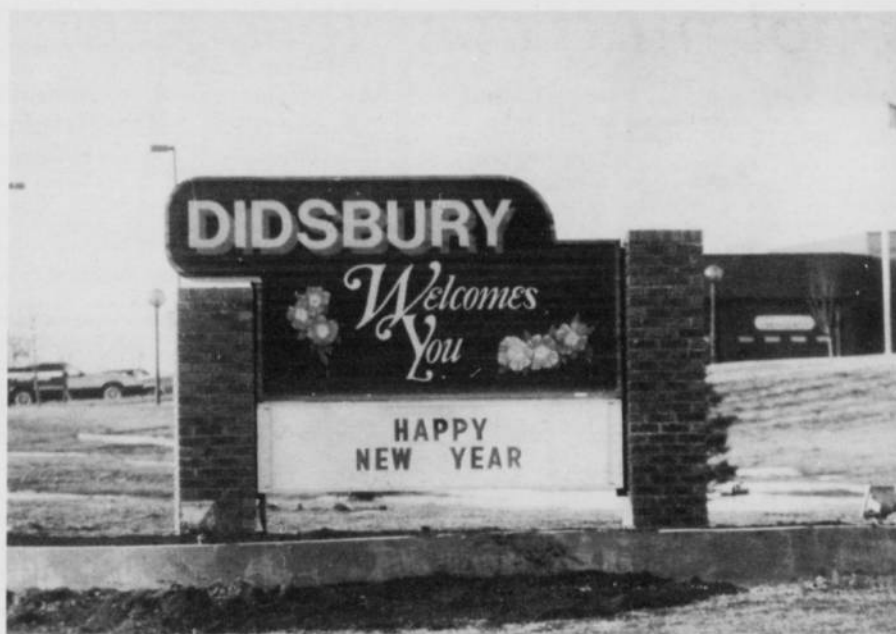

By mid-November I spent a lot of time sort of leaning on my elbows and insisting that I felt fine thanks, maybe a bit tired. "Please make a Doctor's appointment," said my husband, and I said, "yes, yes I will." "But first I want to get a couple of speaking jobs out of the way and do some Christmas shopping and some baking and write some letters and bring some projects up to date and do the Christmas cards and letter and finish some sewing and get my cross stitch framed and wrap some gifts and..."

On Nov. 28th our W.I. group was serving a tea when my vision became blurry. During the next few days the only time that I was not thirsty was when I actually had liquid in my mouth. I drank quarts of water, ginger ale, orange juice, lemonade, herbal tea, clamato juice. Nothing really helped. I made a Doctor's appointment.

If you are planning to spend a week in hospital I recommend Didsbury. I have great confidence in my Doctor, the staff is wonderful, the atmosphere is healing, the library is extensive, and the food, even on a diabetic diet is excellent. I felt better almost immediately.

Ronny phoned when he heard about my problem and we reassured each other that there are worse things than diabetes. There are even some funny things. I thought it was funny when Dr. Ahmad told me I would hear from his lawyer if I ate anything good over Christmas and I thought it was funny and touching when my husband hovered over me and offered to trade a cup of coffee for my teaspoon of champagne on New Year's Eve. The other guests probably think I'm a recovering alcoholic.

I guess there are even some nice things. It looks like I will finally lose some weight that stays lost. I have had wonderful support from family and friends and then were the Christmas trees. My vision is still just blurred enough that all lights seem to triangle and within every triangle is a shimmer of light. When we drive across darkened countryside I see a veritable fairyland of Christmas trees. Coming in to the city I see a display of Christmas trees that would take your breath away, the tailights on the car just ahead are twin trees in glowing red, lights on the overpass are seven perfect trees all in brightest gold. If you are going to get diabetes get it at Christmas. The Christmas trees are almost worth it.

Welcome to our town

Didsbury has a new welcome sign brightening its east entry. It glows in the dark and has space for messages.

Theft suspect nabbed

A young offender from Calgary, whose name cannot be made public, has been charged in connection with a break, enter and theft at Interior Magic in Didsbury.

Didsbury RCMP said a person or persons entered the store by breaking through the glass in the front door at about 3 a.m. on Dec. 15.

Interior Magic owner Verla Sherick said more than $2,000 worth of goods and cash were stolen, along with cheques and credit card receipts.

RCMP said only a small portion of the stolen property has been recovered.

Mrs. Sherick said after RCMP were alerted by a passer-by, her husband, Ken and Paul Kinghorn of County Glass Ltd. were repairing the damaged door when Mr. Kinghorn's truck, parked in front of the store, was stolen.

Apparently, the culprits had some trouble with their own getaway vehicles (a flat tire) and returned for the truck.

Seat-belt crackdown

Didsbury RCMP say they will step up seat-belt enforcement in the New Year.

A news release from the detachment, Jan. 2, said: "It has been noticed that many people are not using seat belts... enforcement will be heavy in the New Year."

RCMP also reminded motorists that school zone speed limits are back in force after the holidays and should be adhered to.

The local detachment presently has five bicycles in storage. Anyone missing a bicycle is asked to contact the RCMP, 335-3381.

Pool may cost less than expected

By Peter Crosby

The cost of building a new leisure pool in Didsbury may be less than expected.

The town's pool committee recently received submissions from eight builders and their cost projections were less than anticipated, said committee chairman, Coun. Al Engel.

While Coun. Engel was reluctant to divulge all figures until further discussions take place, he did say that the low offer for a four-lane lap pool with zero-depth entry and provision for future expansion was in the area of $1.1 million.

"We're very pleased," he said. "We had so many people telling us that we wouldn't be able to build a new pool for under $2 million."

The $1.1 million would cover the cost of everything the committee has recommended, with support from town council, excluding costs of a water slide and hot tub.

Coun. Engel said these items (water slide, $120,000; hot tub, $40,000) could be added as funds become available and might be reasonable fund-raising goals for community-minded organizations. Didsbury's Build Our Pool Society has already indicated that money raised through its various fund-raising efforts could be applied to one of the extras.

One reason the builders' figures may have come in lower than expected, said Engel, was that the committee bypassed the architectural step when it asked builders for estimates.

"We gave them our own blueprint and said 'this is what we want, what will it cost?'"

The committee will further review the proposals and bring a recommendation to council. If council approves, this could pave the way for a plebiscite on a money borrowing bylaw, likely to be held this spring.

If ratepayers approve, work on the facility could start this summer.

Council earlier decided to demolish the old pool, closed since the fall of 1990, sell the property and apply the proceeds to a new facility. Council also agreed that if a new facility is built, it will be part of the existing Memorial Complex. A proposed new curling rink would also be part of this facility, putting most of Didsbury's recreational outlets under one roof.

A survey of 1,100 residents last year and then a poll of those attending two public meetings on the pool in October, indicated majority support for a leisure facility built in stages.

Battle for Calgary calling continues

By Peter Crosby

A Didsbury man hasn't given up his battle for a toll-free telephone service to Calgary.

But Ron Vogel said Monday he's "not terribly happy" with the bureaucratic runaround he's been getting on the matter.

After beginning his quest for the service last June, Vogel has written letters to Alberta Government Telephones, Wildrose MP Louise Feltham and most recently has been in communication with the Canadian Radio Telecommunications Commission (CRTC) and its director of complaints, Paul Godin.

Federal Communications Minister Perrin Beatty has also been informed of the situation, along with CRTC chairman Keith Spicer.

"Where it stands now is that AGT has been asked to investigate the matter and then report to the commission," said Vogel. "It seem like [the CRTC] is leaving it up to AGT to tell them the score. No one is putting pressure on [AGT]."

AGT says Didsbury is beyond the 65 kilometre distance to be considered for Extended Flat Rate Calling. (Didsbury is 65.5 kms. from Calgary, says AGT).

AGT has told Vogel it is "unable to make an exception," to what he sees as a "minor technicality."

The second criteria for EFRC calling is that at least 50 per cent of telephone users in the community approve.

"I don't believe there would be any trouble in reaching that [50 per cent]," said Vogel. He sent four "full pages" of names to AGT and CRTC officials in making his point.

The cost of the extended service would be somewhere between $3 (residential) and $5 (business) a month, Vogel has been told.

The service would be especially beneficial to Didsbury businesses which now pay up to $260 a month for direct dialing lines to the city.

Eliminating this cost would help local businesses reduce overhead and become more competitive.

"AGT recognizes there's a lot of interest in this but they're dragging their feet," said Vogel.

Nativity popular

A live nativity, enacted nightly over a three-day period at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Didsbury was more popular than ever this year, attracting well over 300 people each night in fine weather. Here, Joseph, takes the baby Jesus from the manger for the journey home.

Club marking 30th anniversary

Skaters down memory lane

A popular event in the Didsbury community every year is the Didsbury Figure Skating Club's ice show. This year will be no exception.

The club will be presenting a very special show on Feb. 23 as it celebrates its 30th anniversary, one of the highlights of the annual Didsbury Winter Festival.

The theme of this year's show will be "Down Memory Lane" and will highlight events that have occurred in Didsbury during the past 30 years.

The club is inviting any past skaters, coaches and executive members to join in and be part of the show. Anyone interested is asked to contact Cindy Collinge, 335-4110 or Rosalind Kelsall, 335-4627.

After the show, which gets underway in the Memorial Complex at 2 p.m., everyone is invited to come to the multi-purpose room for a social. The Didsbury Scouting Organization will be selling beef on a bun.

The skating club, its coaches and directors, hope to see everyone out for this special event featuring skaters from two years old to adult.

Two local skaters recently travelled to Sparwood, B.C.

for a competition. Jayda and Natasha Kelsall both skated well with Jayda placing second in pre-preliminary ladies freeskate, 8 years and under and first in pre-preliminary interpretive. Natasha placed third in pre-preliminary ladies, 11 years and over.

OPINIONS/EDITORIAL

Happy New Year

By Peter Crosby

Let the bells ring out and the banners fly. We've made it into another year in this strike-filled world.

For sure, it's going to be better than '91. Couldn't be worse, could it?

And what should we resolve? Knock off a few pounds? Stop smoking? Quit drinking? Stop complaining?

According to so-called experts we should forget these usual resolutions. Instead, they say, we should worry less about these and other matters. Smoking and obesity can kill you but stress is worse, they say.

Don't worry, be happy.

I didn't really like that song but... living in this world, where change is happening more rapidly than anything our forefathers imagined, how else can we approach life and maintain our sanity?

Working hard, enjoying what we have and being thankful... that's all we need.

And being kind to others, our friends, our neighbours.

As Abe Lincoln once observed, concentrate on finding the virtues in others and the vices in yourself.

What a world that would be.

Here's to a brighter, happier 1992.

Extended calling

You've got to give Ron Vogel top marks for perservance as he pursues Extended Flat Rate Calling between Didsbury and Calgary.

AGT points to the fact that Didsbury is half a kilometre beyond the boundary set in its criteria for such service. A rule is a rule, AGT insists. No exceptions.

Half a kilometre seems like a pretty flimsy excuse and one that could probably be overcome with sufficient pressure applied in the right places. If you agree with Mr. Vogel's proposal, why not call or write AGT or Wildrose MP Louise Feltham with your thoughts.

Even if you only call Calgary once or twice a month, it would be a service worth having.

Teachers should settle

County of Mountain View teachers, part of the Bow Valley School Authorities Association, should count their lucky stars and settle on a new contract.

Under a proposal for the 1991-92 school year, the teachers have been offered a 5.2 per cent wage hike. They want 5.6, a matter of about $100 per teacher.

A final meeting between the teachers and the BVSAA is scheduled for this Thursday. An agreement should be reached then and the teachers should accept what they've been offered and be thankful.

I'll never knock teachers and the most demanding jobs they do. But who doesn't have a tough job?

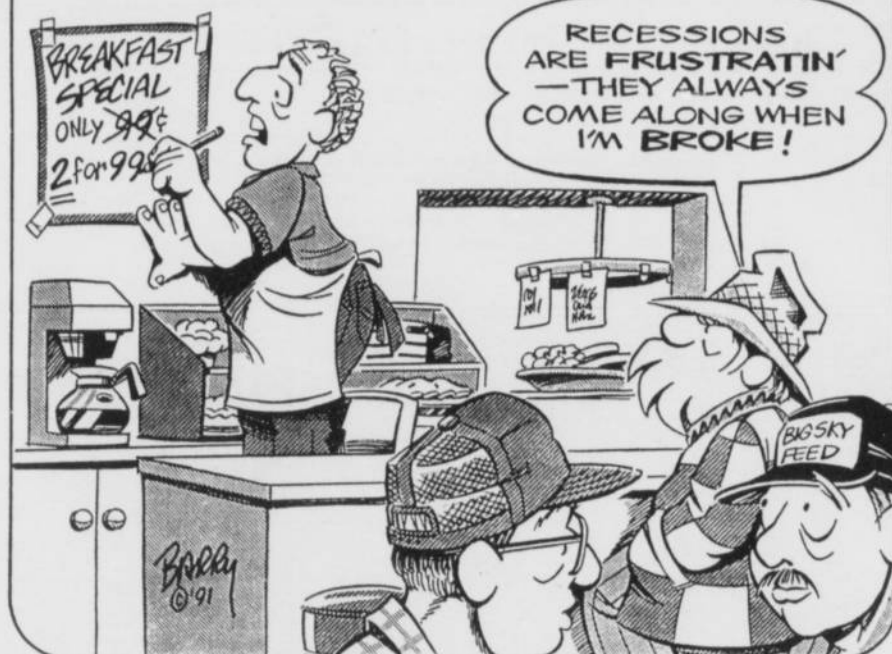

Teachers should be fairly compensated for what they do. A 5.2 per cent hike in these hard economic times is more than fair.

Flames OK

Calgary Flames GM-coach Doug Risebrough finally put the hammer down, showing he's not someone to mess with. I hated to see the Flames lose Gilmour but I don't think the trade was as one-sided as we're led to believe by assorted sportswriters and other commentators.

The Flames have a lot of talent, Gilmour or no Gilmour. No one is irreplaceable.

Albertans paid more than fair share

Dear Editor,

Should you wish to know what you as a taxpayer contribute to Canada the provincial government has a pamphlet "Alberta In A New Canada" which is available at the Treasury Branch. It will show you that Alberta has balanced about $140 billion more to Canada than it has taken out. All other provinces except B.C. took more out of Canada than they put in, with B.C. putting in about $8 billion and Quebec taking out about $135 billion more than they put in. To me this gives one clear message. Between 1961 and 1988 there was no premier representing the interests of Albertans and your legislature was composed of a group who looked after No. 1. Themselves!

If you go to your MLA's office you can get the Budget 1991 pamphlet which will show on the back page how Albertans pay the lowest taxes in Canada. What absolute garbage! Can any rocket scientist or brain doctor out there explain how we in a province with 2,600,000 people can have the lowest taxes in Canada but gave out $140 billion dollars more than we got back from the federal government?

Our provincial treasurer balanced our budget on $23 a barrel of oil. I understand that in Las Vegas they are giving the same odds of his budget balancing as they are on the date of the second coming. He's smarter than they think, he can just balance it on $26 per barrel next year.

Albertans better take a close look at what is going on and it better be soon. Mr. Lougheed had a Supreme Court judgment in Alberta that the National Energy Program was Ultra Vires (illegal). Pierre Trudeau took it to the Supreme Court who found for the province of Alberta. Yet Mr. Lougheed brought in the N.E.P. According to Lucien Maynard in his book "Mulroney Trade Deal"

Trudeau got the blame but it was our ever lovin' god, Peter Lougheed who did the dirty work.

Mr. Getty voted for the Meech Lake Accord yet most Albertans were against it. Did you know the vote in the Alberta Legislature was unanimous for the Meech Accord? If you don't believe it ask your MLA which way he voted.

The Heritage Trust Fund was just a scam to get Albertans' gold out of their hands and away so that it wouldn't be left in the Treasury Branches and loaned back to Albertans at a reasonable interest rate. Where is it now?

This next election I urge Albertans to take a close look at who you vote for and don't vote for them unless you have the right of referendum and recall to get these clowns we send to Edmonton to represent you.

Youth Theatre organizers deserve better

Dear Editor:

Now that the hustle and bustle of the holidays is over, I would like to take this opportunity to thank publicly some certain ladies in Olds. Do you know that while we were preparing for Christmas many weeks beforehand, these ladies couldn't even think about Christmas until after Dec. 15?

They were busy preparing a super production for Olds Youth Theatre, so that the people of our town would have something to go to and support other than hockey or ringette.

I am a parent who has a son who has been involved in Olds Youth Theatre since it began with "Cinderella." I am so thankful that Helen Huber and Marlene Skeet had the insight to see that this town needed something for our youth, that does not involve sports. There are many gifted children in Olds who love to express themselves in dance, acting and singing. Helen and Marlene started the Olds Youth Theatre 3 years ago in order that their own girls would have an opportunity to develop their talents.

I am ashamed when I get wind of the gossip that was circulated about the director's daughter getting leading roles. Listen my friends, if my child was as talented as Tracie Skeet is in acting, dancing and singing, she too would have a leading part. By the way, Tracie only had a leading role in the very first production "Cinderella" and in the next two shows, she had minor roles to give some other children an opportunity for leading parts. In the last production of "Hans Christian Andersen," Tracie did all the choreography and dance coaching. You know as adults how difficult it is to work with teens and younger. Imagine the difficulty Tracie had, being a teenager herself, but she persevered the gossip and back-biting and stuck with it, and you

Clean air strategy update

Hon. Roy Brassard, MLA
Olds-Didsbury Constituency

Clean Air Strategy Update

Many of you will recall the establishment of the Clean Air Strategy for Alberta in March of 1990. The strategy's purpose was to foster public discussion around the province on air emissions that stem from the production and use of energy. The specific objectives of the strategy were to help identify and clarify potential impacts of these emissions on the environment, to point out action that both consumers and producers can take to reduce such emissions, and to develop policy and program recommendations for government.

After the strategy was announced, an Advisory Group was appointed to advise the government on the progress of this initiative, and to enhance communication with people and sectors throughout the province. Since that time, the Advisory Group has met with industry, municipalities, special interest groups, and the public at large, to discern Albertan's views and opinions. On Nov. 27, the Advisory Group issued their final report to the ministers responsible for the strategy; Honourable Rick Orman, Minister of Energy, and Honourable Ralph Klein, Minister of Environment.

The findings and conclusions gleaned from the consultation process - (which included workshops, public meetings and written submissions), have been integrated into this final report to the Ministers. As a result, the Report is very comprehensive including the identification of a spectrum of air management challenges in Alberta, plus an outline of goals and activities which government can consider to help address these challenges. The report also proposes an air management system for identifying problems, setting priorities, allocating resources, developing plans and involving a full complement of stakeholders. All recommendations in the report will now be reviewed by government, and three members of the Advisory Group are making presentation to the Economic Planning Committee of Cabinet on December 10th.

If you would like more information on the clean air strategy, or copies of the report, please contact the Clean Air Strategy for Alberta office in Edmonton at 427-9793.

If you need to contact me, or just want to, please call me at our constituency office 556-3132 or my Edmonton office at 422-0141 (collect).

The Canadian Panel of Violence Against Women is set to launch nation-wide consultations this January with the release of "Ending Violence Against Women -- Your Chance To Do Something About It", a discussion guide to help people get started on the process.

The panel will carry out five nine-day tours in 100 communities across Canada during its consultations starting in British Columbia and Alberta on January 19. The names of the participating communities will be announced shortly.

The panel will provide an opportunity for women and men to discuss existing systems to deal with violence and to develop new solutions, as well as to make the link between the various kinds of violence. Women and men can work together to find a solution to this program. Together, they will not just be working against violence, they will be working to make zero tolerance of violence a reality for all Canadians.

The panel is a direct response to petitions and requests from thousands of Canadians who insisted on the need for solutions and a plan of action, based on women's experience with violence. They are also pointing out the need for heightened public awareness of the many forms of violence to which women are vulnerable.

Federal pension plans

The government has given parliament official notice that it will introduce a bill early in the New Year to ensure that federal public sector pension plans comply with the new Income Tax Act rules for registered pension plans.

This bill will also propose changes that would address some long-standing fairness issues related to federal pensions, such as the division of pension credits upon marital breakdown, pension coverage for part-time employees, and an early retirement program for correctional service officers.

The bill's passage would permit the reserves in the supplementary death benefit accounts to improve life insurance coverage for participants in the public service and Canadian forces supplementary death benefit plans at no additional cost to taxpayers or participants.

The government will also review the fundamental elements of the major federal public sector pension plans, such as the rate of return to be credited to the pension funds, future inflation protection arrangements, and plan management.

who saw the show, know what a beautiful job she did.

This brings me to another point I'd like to express and that is the lack of support for Olds Youth Theatre from the town, the school and yes I'm sorry to say, many of the parents whose children were involved. If it hadn't been for a few faithful parents to help Marlene and Helen out with the production, I'm sure they both would have had a nervous breakdown. When parents were asked to help, many were either too busy, or just didn't want to get involved.

I hate to say it parents, but you were the losers. When we saw the production on opening night, what a thrill to know that my family had a small part in helping make it what it was. Then there was the matter of attendance. What a shame when all that time and effort went into such a show and the gym was only half full on Friday and Saturday nights.

Just one more thing I'd like to address and then I'm finished, and that is the complaints of the cost of certain costumes. Give me a break, what club or event is your child involved in that does not involve money? So what if you are only going to wear it once. What a small price to pay for dance, voice (thanks to June Chittick) and acting training our kids received.

It is a real tragedy that Marlene and Helen feel they can not go on giving of themselves so our children and community can benefit, but I certainly don't blame them. You should have seen the disappointment on the children's faces when they were told there would be no Olds Youth Theatre production next year, but you can only handle the abuse for so long, as these ladies found out.

My hat goes off to you. Marlene and Helen for what you started in the town of Olds and for the hours of excellent directing and caring you provided so that my son could benefit so much. I hope this letter will be thought provoking and that many others will thank these ladies personally and yes maybe even apologize if necessary, for the time and effort and love they have showed towards our children.

Industry's future tops policy agenda, says Isley

Solving the fundamental problems in agriculture took on greater urgency in 1991 says Alberta's agriculture minister in a year-end interview.

"Remedying the causes of low farm income preoccupied farmers and farm leaders this year," says Ernie Isley. "Governments attempted to address short term needs through safety net and other assistance programs, but confronting basic issues has moved to the forefront."

"While poor weather was an issue in northeastern Alberta, the real causes of low farm income are less obvious and certainly more difficult to resolve," says Isley. "Over-supply, trade wars, high costs and inflexible domestic infrastructure that limit our ability to respond to market demand all contribute to the farm income situation."

Isley notes the Alberta government response to farmers' short term needs was a $115 million package that included enhanced government contributions to the Net Income Stabilization Account (NISA) and an extension of the Alberta Crow Benefit Offset Program through to March 31, 1993.

"But, while we recognize the need to provide short term assistance, and also to provide long term income insurance type programs such as the Gross Revenue Insurance Plan (GRIP) and NISA, we also recognize that no one, least of all farmers, wants to rely on government assistance for their income," Isley says.

"Ad hoc programs are costly, difficult to administer and often fail to satisfy the real needs of farmers. It comes as no surprise that a recent Prairie-wide survey of farmers confirmed that farmers themselves think subsidies benefit no one.

"This must lead us to take another look at some basic elements of our nation's farm policy. Safety net programs will reduce our reliance on ad hoc programs, but other issues such as interprovincial trade barriers and grain handling and transportation still beg our attention."

Isley says he's hopeful the planned transportation consultations -- scheduled to begin in January 1992 -- will identify clear options in reforming the Canadian grain handling and transportation system. "Production and transportation decisions need to reflect markets. This reform proposes to put decision making in the hands of farmers, where it belongs."

Independent facilitators will lead discussions on transportation reform throughout the province. Times, dates and locations will be widely advertised to allow all stakeholders the opportunity to participate in the process.

The minister says he is also hopeful a new General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) agreement will be signed in the near future. Isley was in Geneva this fall as part of a trade mission that also travelled to Russia, Ukraine and the United Kingdom. Isley reiterated Alberta's position that supports new rules and disciplines for export subsidies. He observes while the magnitude of reform might be less than what had been hoped for, any movement toward liberalized trade will be welcome.

"Reform is essential if GATT is to remain a respected institution. It will also end the senseless subsidy war which is on the verge of bankrupting many treasuries," he adds.

Aggressively marketing Alberta products both at home and abroad is another key element in the industry's strategy for future success says Isley. Although the United States and Japan will continue to be Alberta's primary export markets, Isley's trade mission reinforced Alberta's interests in Russia and Ukraine. "Alberta entrepreneurs have already established a foothold in Eastern Europe. That part of the world is undergoing a tremendous social, political and economic change. The emerging states are eager to adopt democratic and capitalist principles, which will provide many opportunities for Alberta products and services in the future."

Alberta women initiate farm action

Alberta Women in Support of Agriculture are initiators of action within the agricultural community, said out-going president Martha Andrews of Brooks, Alberta, in her report to the annual meeting in Calgary.

Throughout 1991, the AWSA has organized educational seminars on such important topics as ethanol production as an alternative source of income and transportation of farm products.

In addition, the AWSA has participated in the Rural Child Care Project, the Alberta Farm Women's Network, the Urban Awareness Program, Classroom Agriculture Program (CAP) and the EAT project, telling the agricultural story to urban consumers.

Members have also taken an active role in the Environmentally Sustainable Agriculture Consultation process, helping develop the Draft Action Plan. This is a comprehensive integrated approach to managing the physical resources upon which Alberta's agricultural industry depends and is based.

The five program areas are: 1) the farm based program which recognizes the need for fundamental changes at the production level to address a wide range of environmental issues;

3) the processing based program which recognizes this sector's growing importance to the diversification of the agricultural industry and of the need for this sector to reduce its impacts on the environment;

3) the water quality monitoring program which addresses the need to determine the magnitude of production and processing practices impacts on water quality;

4) the proposals based program which is a flexible program which directly and immediately supports the full range of environmental issues related to the production and processing sectors; and

5) the urban awareness program which addresses urban concerns and perception about the environmental impact of the production and processing sectors of the agricultural industry.

The Draft Action Plan serves as the basis for the agricultural component of the Federal Green Plan, a broad five-year environmental action plan which allocates $350 million towards sustainable development of Canada's agricultural, forestry and fishery industries.

During their annual meeting the AWSA membership passed resolutions calling for the federal and provincial governments to:

- make available increased research funding to pursue value-added processing;

- support an initiative to enhance the image of the farming profession through education and accurate information on food production;

- provide a Clean Water Act;

- amend the Fertilizer Act ensuring a registered product produces the results that the registrant advocates and that there is no misleading advertising, and that the registrant furnish test data from independent researchers prior to registration;

- institute interest-shielding programs for both capital purchases and operating farm loans of not more than Prime less one per cent.

- support the concept of ethanol production ensuring clean air.

The AWSA also passed a resolution supporting the concept of flexible leaseback program, including a leaseback period of longer than five years if deemed necessary and giving the farmer first right of refusal on the leaseback.

The membership elected Margaret Linklater of Lacombe, president of the AWSA. Martha Andrews of Brooks is past-president;

Ineke Leemhuis of Calgary secretary and Elaine Hall of Vulcan is treasurer; Elaine Deeg of Strathmore is Vice-President.

The 1992 annual meeting and convention is scheduled for Nov. 21-22.

College exports popular in Japan

Olds College is gaining popularity in Asian markets these days, especially when it comes to exporting forages.

An export agreement for over 200 tonnes of oat hay feed to Japan from the Olds Forage Centre has just been set. As well, there is renewed support from both the Japanese and Koreans to a dairy technology exchange arrangement.

Just back from Asia, Farm Manager, Barry Schmitt is impressed with the increased popularity of Olds, and particularly the College, with the various industries, colleges, and universities he visited.

"It's really nice to see the awareness and respect people in Japan and Korea have for Albertans . . . not only with respect to our products and expertise, but also ourselves. They treated us very well," Schmitt comments.

Transfeeder Incorporated and Cornell Trading, (two of the College's industry supporters) co-sponsored Schmitt's business trip overseas, a venture he says has been very profitable.

Japan, for example, has decided to start buying some of their oat hay feed from Alberta. "They usually buy oat hay from Australia, because of the lower-nitrate levels in their yellow colored oat hay," Schmitt says. "In the past we have tried to sell Japan green oat hay but this year our oat hay was managed to obtain the yellow and, therefore, was better received."

Perhaps equally valuable, especially to Japanese post secondary institutions, is the continued exchange of dairy expertise with Albertans. Information on genetics, effective maintenance and growth mechanisms for various dairy cattle breeds are just some of the topics Olds College provides to visiting foreign instructors. The Rakeno Guaken University and College of Dairy in Northern Japan are continuing to show much enthusiasm for the exchange programs.

"The programs were originally set up around 1974 by the provincial government," Schmitt says. "Representatives from both institutions would like to continue the exchange program and feel it plays a vital role in technology transfer. Their dairy practices are a little behind ours and they have developed a great respect for the instructors we've sent over there."

If you would like more information about the technology export initiatives Olds College is taking in Asia, please contact Farm Manager, Barry Schmitt at (403) 556-8389.

College offers post-holiday fitness programs

Are you restless now that the hustle and bustle of the holidays is over for another year?

The Leisure Services Department at Olds College is introducing three energizing fitness programs designed especially to combat post-Christmas blues. They include:

- Homemaker's Holiday - a five-week fitness program focussing on some of the theories behind fitness as well as active power-walking, aerobic, stepping and strength training classes.

- Volleyball Fever - community co-rec volleyball, and

- Step up to it - the newest strain of aerobic classes that uses individual stepping benches.

Olds College Leisure Program Manager, Jo Ann Parliament, will be taking on the Homemaker's Holiday session with Fitness Centre Manager, Bonnie McAskill, beginning January 14.

"What we will actually be putting on is a shortened version of the Fitness Program already being offered to students here at the College. We want to make it as fun and informative as possible...something more than what they'd get out of just an aerobics class," Parliament said. Homemaker's Holiday is being offered for five weeks at the College, ending February 14.

For those who are more motivated by team sports, the Leisure Services Department is organizing a community-oriented volleyball league Wednesday nights starting January 6. The league is strictly for fun and all players, regardless of their level of ability, are encouraged to play.

Once again, Olds College will be offering their "Step up to it" aerobic classes. This recently introduced form of aerobic exercise makes use of individual benches of varying heights for each participant. "Each person follows along with the instructor to a number of songs 'stepped' to in a variety of ways...it's really an excellent low-impact form of activity," says Parliament.

If you would like to register for any of the above fitness programs or would like more information regarding dates and costs, please contact Jo Ann Parliament, Leisure Program Manager at (403) 556-8217.

CREMONA / WATER VALLEY NEWS

Meeting on Cremona School's future

By Peter Crosby

In an effort to keep Cremona and area residents informed about the future of the Cremona School, a community meeting will be held Thursday, Jan. 16.

Everyone from the parents of young children to senior citizens is encouraged to attend the meeting, scheduled for the Cremona School gym at 7:30 p.m.

"We want to develop plans that are going to carry the school for the next 10 to 15 years," said a spokesman for the school's modernization committee, Charlie Van Arnem. "We haven't pursued the idea of a new school, we just want to make this one bigger and better."

Representatives from the school board and superintendency, along with local MLA Roy Brassard have been invited to attend the meeting organized by the eight-member modernization committee.

The province has approved the first phase of modernization: a new gym, physical education room, library and storage areas to be built in 1993.

"We have to decide if we want a bigger gym or fancier stage than are in the existing plans," said Mr. Van Arnem. "If we want more, now's the time to say so."

"It's a community school, the community has to make the decision. It affects the future of everyone, the future of our community, so it's important that everyone understand it."

A bigger gym or fancier stage would require community fund-raising.

Other renovations are scheduled for 1994 and 1995, including the addition of two new classrooms and modernizations of the two original wings of the school.

A population spurt attributed to a growing number of acres in the Cremona area has resulted in more students at the Cremona School. Latest enrolment figures show there are 226 elementary, 124 junior high and 129 senior high students for a total of 479, up from 451 at the same time last year.

Anyone requiring further information about the modernization plans or the meeting can contact Mr. Van Arnem at 337-2463 or 337-2188.

Cremona minor hockey, ringette news

On December 28th and 29th our Dynamite Team invaded Crossfield and participated in Crossfield's Tournament.

In all, they played 3 games and gained 3 victories. Brad Whitlow played in net in all games recording a shut-out in the final one.

In the first game with the score tied at the conclusion of regulation time, both opposing goalies were lifted and sudden-death overtime prevailed. Of all people, Brad Whitlow scored in the final session. Other scorers in the tournament for Cremona were Dusty Ryan, 6 goals, Jesse Zinter, 5 goals, and Lawrence Landry, 3 goals. Well done Gang! A special thank you to Crossfield for a fine tournament!

On December 30th and 31st our Novice Team journeyed to Beiseker and played in that town's annual Christmas Tournament. The results of the trip were 1 win, 2 losses.

The losses were at the hands of Gleichen and Beiseker, due largely to good skating and passing. The victory came in a nail-biting overtime shoot-out. The experiences gained in the two days were welcomed.

On the following weekend, the Novices were up against Olds 2 in Olds. Although a very even game was played Cremona lost 9-7.

On Dec. 22nd, the Cremona Ringette Juniors closed out 1991 with a convincing 14-4 victory over Sundre.

Cremona opened the scoring 7 minutes in with a power play goal by Sherry Leask. Susie

Grace tied it for Sundre 3 minutes later, but a pair each by Stacey Kinch and Adrienne Blain staked Cremona to a 5-3 first period lead.

The second period was all Cremona as they scored early and often. The point parade was led by Wendy Leask (3g - 5 a); Adrienne Blain (4g - 2a) and Stacey Kinch (4g - 1a). Other scorers were Shera Robertson and Jill Fournier while assists were credited to Monica Russell, Amber Havens and Jerri Lynn Cornforth. Once again, Melissa Foat was sharp in goal.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Jerri Lynn who underwent surgery over the holidays.

Next action is on Jan. 7th at 6 p.m. against Airdrie.

Firearm charges laid

A Cremona man has been charged in connection with a New Year's Day incident in which a 20-year-old Cremona woman was allegedly threatened and assaulted with a .22 calibre rifle carried by the man.

Didsbury RCMP said they arrested and charged Arthur John Desjarlais, 30, with pointing a firearm and assault with a weapon.

Desjarlais was arrested without incident, RCMP said, and he is scheduled to appear in Didsbury provincial court, Jan. 14, to answer to the charges.

RCMP said they responded to a complaint of a woman being threatened with a firearm at 6:30 a.m.

The alleged victim, Lawona Ronquist, received minor scratches to her hands and bruising during the incident which occurred at her Cremona residence at about 5 a.m., RCMP said.

TRAVEL & ENTERTAINMENT

5-0 members enjoy Rosebud fare

Rosebud Theatre, known to many as the little hamlet with the big theatre, has expanded. Not only has the size of the theatre and dining facility increased, but so also has its programming. The theatre presents annually three live theatrical productions. These have been complemented with a Christmas variety program. This was the Theatre's first Christmas program and judging by its success, it won't be the last.

One group which can now boast that they have seen Rosebud Theatre's first Christmas program is the Didsbury 5-0 Club. On Saturday, December 7th, the group attended a matinee production of "A Christmas in Rosebud." They began with a buffet-style meal in the Rosebud Mercantile, while being serenaded by the Rosebud Minstrels. Following the meal some of the group visited the Rosebud Craft Shop and the Rosebud Centennial Museum, then it was off to the Rosebud Opera House for the Christmas variety program.

Act I of the Christmas program commenced with a welcome and a carol sing followed by a comedy magic act, music from the Rosebud River Valley Boys, a vocal ensemble made up of eight apprentices and staff of Rosebud School of the Arts, and a short theatrical presentation entitled "Secret of The Gifts." Act II of the program was a presentation from the Rosebud Choral and Orchestra. The Choral performed Vivaldi's "Gloria" and was accompanied by the Rosebud Orchestra which consists of four violins, one viola, a cello, bass, harpsichord, flute and clarinet.

The Didsbury 5-0 Club felt that the trip to Rosebud was well worth their time and were pleased to hear that a Christmas program has already been worked into the Theatre's 1992 season. Anne Jenkins, the group's organizer, vocalized her approval of the variety program. We know that those in the 5-0 Club are not snowbirds but judging by their positive experience in Rosebud, they might just become Rosebud birds. Who knows...perhaps only the big guy with the white beard and red coat the birds share the sky with.

Red Deer offers winter activities galore

Red Deer has many special events planned for visitors and residents alike in the New Year.

Red Deer galleries regularly feature art and theme exhibits. Trapline: Lifeline, a Prince of Wales Northern Heritage Centre exhibit touring nationally, will be on display at the Red Deer and District Museum from Jan. 9 to Feb. 23. This exhibit offers the perspective of Canada's northern people affected by the controversy surrounding the fur industry. Photography by Dwight Arthur and watercolours and oils by Robert Wiebe will be featured in an exhibit entitled Textures, Colours and Moods at the Kerry Wood Nature Centre from Jan. 18 to March 1.

An entertaining variety of concerts are scheduled this winter. Classical music lovers will enjoy 'A La Francaise' with the Red Deer Symphony Orchestra, a concert by Gary Fellgard, and an evening of entertainment with Repercussion, masters of percussion. Country music fans will enjoy Sawyer Brown at the Centrum on Jan. 31.

Central Alberta Theatre begins their dinner theatre season on Jan. 17 at the Black Knight Inn, with The Second Time Around. An original Red Deer revue, Crimes of the Heart, is the next Centre Stage production opening at the Red Deer College Arts Centre on Feb.

For armchair sports fans, the Centrum presents Champions on Ice featuring Elizabeth Manley on Jan. 15, and Canyon Ski Area will host the Woodwards Alberta Cup Slalom on Feb. 8 and 9. The Oilmen's and Farmer's Curling Bonspiels are annual favourites at the Red Deer Curling Club.

For those who want to stay active this winter, Red Deer offers skating, cross-country skiing, snowshoeing, downhill skiing and sledding. The well-maintained ice surface at Bower Ponds attracts skaters day and night. Hockey is permitted in a separate area of the ponds and there is even opportunity to ice fish in these stocked ponds. Ice fishing kits, skates and cross-country skis are available for rent in the pavilion.

Track set cross-country ski trails are maintained at River Bend Golf Course and Recreation Area, lower Heritage Ranch, and Red Deer College. You can strap on a pair of snowshoes and explore the Gaetz Lakes Sanctuary at Kerry Wood Nature Centre. Downhill ski enthusiasts will enjoy the variety of challenging runs at Canyon, Alberta's highest non-mountain ski hill.

On Family Day weekend in February, a variety of special events are planned. Family Winter Fest and Cabane-A-Sucre will take place at Heritage Ranch on Feb. 16. The day's events include hay and pony rides, a petting zoo, games, food, entertainment, and sugaring off. On Feb. 17, Canyon Ski Area holds a special event, and Eastview Community School hosts a Family Day Carnival. And be sure not to miss the Third Annual Family Fishing Derby at Bower Ponds!

For information on these and other winter events, pick up a copy of the January/February issue of What's On in Red Deer. This brochure is available free of charge at the Chamber of Commerce Visitor Information Centre, 3017 Gaetz Avenue, and from the Red Deer Tourist and Convention Board, 342-8279.

Ramblers gain split on road

By Peter Crosby

Didsbury Ramblers got the second half of their Chinook Hockey League season off to a good start, splitting a pair of road games on the weekend.

Newcomer Mark Fredine snapped home the only goal of the third period for the winner Saturday as the Ramblers defeated Trochu Blazers 5-4.

On Friday, Didsbury made its return to play following the holiday break, losing 11-6 to the Innisfail Eagles.

Saturday's win over Trochu improved Didsbury's record to 3-12.

The Ramblers will now play another two games away from home, versus Olds Elks in Sundre, Sunday, Jan. 12 at 2 p.m., and at Hobbema Oilers, Wednesday, Jan. 15. The league all-star game will be played Saturday, Jan. 18 at Trochu.

Next home action for the Ramblers is Sunday, Jan. 19, 1:30 p.m. against Olds.

Didsbury and Trochu were tied 2-2 after the first period of their game at Trochu. The Ramblers took a 4-2 lead after 40 minutes before Trochu came back to tie matters early in the third.

But Fredine fired the winner at 16:45, converting a pass from Ed Krebs, and the Ramblers, getting another solid goaltending effort from Marty Krebs, held on for the win. Krebs faced 36 shots.

For Fredine, who joined the team just before the Christmas break, it was his second goal of the game. He also notched two assists.

Brent Youngs also had a strong outing, scoring two goals and adding a pair of helpers. Chris Overwater also scored for the Ramblers.

Ed Krebs and defenceman Steve Wray each had two assists.

For Trochu, Brian Morrison scored twice, while Shawn Painter and Derek Davidson had singletons.

In the game at Innisfail, the Ramblers skated to a 3-2 lead after 20 minutes on a goal by Youngs and two Fredine. But the Eagles scored four unanswered markers in the second frame to take command, 6-3.

Darcy Widdifield scored twice in the third period for Didsbury and Jamie Jensen added another but Innisfail scored five times to put the game away.

Youngs added three assists for Didsbury.

Ives Makceka paced Innisfail with three goals, while Brent Schaffer and Kevin Dzuba had two each. Singles were scored by Ivan Willigar, Darcy Karbasheski, Ron Leslie and Mark Dowler.

Manager Larry Tennant said the addition of Fredine at left wing as really helped the Youngs' line. "They really complement each other," said Tennant.

In other Rambler news, Ed Krebs has been selected to play in the all-star game and coach Al McCoy was selected as part of the all-star coaching staff. The all-star game will start at 7 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 18 in Trochu.

Didsbury Junior Men's Curling Team

Zone play in Didsbury this weekend

Kennedy rink flying high

By Peter Crosby

A Didsbury junior men's curling foursome is gearing for another run at the provincial championship.

Neil Kennedy and his rink of Tyler Marshall (third), Sean Phillips (second) and Jamie Gingrich (lead), showed they're a team to be reckoned with at the provincial level when they won the prestigious Ray King-Smith Memorial High School Bonspiel at Calgary's Westwinds Curl Club last week.

Kennedy and his rink, all Grade 12 students at Didsbury High School, start their quest for another shot at the provincials this weekend when zone playdowns are held, Jan. 10 to 12.

The local rink will have the advantage of playing at their home club, with play scheduled for the Didsbury Curling Club this Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

They'll need to win this event to qualify for the Southern Alberta playdowns in Medicine Hat, Jan. 31 to Feb. 2.

The provincials are slated for Peace River in mid-February.

Under the coaching of Vair Whitlow and Hobe Horton, Kennedy's rink has been together three years, showing steady improvement.

Last year, they became the first Didsbury rink to qualify for the junior men's provincial playdowns.

"They were only 16 then," said Neil's father, Ken. "Now they're more experienced, more mature."

Winning the Kingsmith bonspiel against some of the best rinks in southern Alberta, should boost their confidence too.

Each rink member earned a $500 scholarship along with a $240 cheque for their victory.

Sharks bite Sundre

The Christmas break did not slow down the Sharks as they took a bite out of the Sundre Novice team. Only one goal in the first period. Didsbury's Seth Leonard assisted by Matt Hnatiuk scored at the 4:56 mark.

In the second period Didsbury took a 3 to 0 lead with an unassisted goal by Matt Hnatiuk and Scott Murphy assisted by Chris Christensen and Matt Hnatiuk. Sundre made it close when Ryan Satelin assisted Sebastian Boulanger before the end of the second. In the third Sundre came out strong to tie the game at 3 when Alicia Smith assisted by Mack Nelson scored and then Danny Lemieux scored.

It stayed tied until with 3:13 left Joe Leonard scored and Didsbury hung on for the win. Shots on goal were Sundre 17 and Didsbury 13. There were 3 penalties in the game, two to Sundre and 1 to Didsbury.

Big week for Grizzlys —Soviet National team in Olds Wednesday

By Peter Crosby

Olds Grizzlys face probably the most hectic week of their Alberta Junior Hockey League schedule—five games in six nights—but there should be some great hockey along the way.

The Grizzlys, locked in a first place tie in the AJHL standings with Calgary Royals, start their busy week with a trip to St. Albert and a game with the Saints tonight (Jan. 7).

Then it's home to Olds Wednesday to take on the CIS (former Soviet Union) national under-18 team at the Sportsplex. Game time is 7:30 p.m. and Olds general manager Bob Clark is expecting a big crowd.

"This will be a very great test for our team," said Clark. "We're going to be up against the best under-18 team in the Soviet Union."

On their current tour, the Russkies have beaten teams in the British Columbia Junior Hockey League and the Western Hockey League.

"People are going to see a different kind of hockey," said Clark of the Russians. "They don't take slapshots. It's all wristshots."

Tickets are $8. All children under Grade 6, accompanied by an adult will be admitted free.

The game is sponsored by the Olds Kiwanis Club. A portion of the proceeds will go towards the new middle school in Olds. There will also be a number of giveaway draws for those in attendance.

"Most of our guys have never played international competition, so they're looking forward to it," said Clark.

After meeting the Russians, the Grizzlys won't get much rest. They take on the Royals in what will probably be a first-place battle Thursday night in Olds. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The Grizzlys have 57 points with a 27-6-3 record and have played three fewer games than the Royals.

Their busy week concludes on Saturday and Sunday with a pair of games against the Pontiacs in Bonnyville.

Olds fattened up on the last-place Pontiacs in its only game last week, whitewashing the visitors 9-0 at the Sportsplex.

An indication of the Grizzlys' dominance was in the shots-on-goal department where they held the upper hand, 48-8. Larry Moberg and Colum Cavillia combined for the shutout.

Reo Lajeunesse sparked the offence with three goals. Tyler Graham, Darcy Dallas, Aaron Zimmell, Steve Opp, Jeff Lyska and Mark Ashley added one apiece.

Didsbury wins Novice tourney

It was an action-packed first game of the Didsbury Minor Hockey Novice Christmas Tournament between Olds I and Didsbury I.

In the first period Didsbury led the way with 3 goals. Brendon Hughes scored the first unassisted, followed by Scott Murphy assisted by Ryan Christensen. The last goal was by Seth Leonard assisted by James McRae. Olds came back in the second to tie the game with 3 goals of their own. The first by Jeff Royston, unassisted; and the next two by Chris Overwater also unassisted.

In the third Olds took the lead on a goal from Chris Overwater only to have Didsbury come back 3½ minutes later to tie on a goal from Chris Christensen assisted by Matt Wright. The last 15 minutes saw Olds goaltender Jason Prestwich and Didsbury goaltender Allen MacKenzie make several outstanding saves to keep the game tied. Didsbury was zero for one on the power play while shots on goal were 27 to 20 for Didsbury.

The second game Didsbury I played was against Olds II. Once again Didsbury jumped to an early lead on goals from Seth and Joe Leonard, both were unassisted. Olds came back in the second to take the lead from Didsbury with a four goal performance. Aaron Stromsmoe, Brant Schiller, Stephen Bard scored unassisted while Matt Flessatti got the last assisted by James Ulry. Didsbury kept it close on an unassisted goal from Seth Leonard. The last period had Didsbury take the lead on two goals by Seth Leonard, one assisted by Joe Leonard. Olds then came back to tie with a goal from Stephan Bard.

It looked like Didsbury would get its second tie in a row but with only 33 seconds left, Seth Leonard got his 5th goal of the game to give Didsbury the win.

The A Final saw Didsbury I take on Didsbury II. It was a very close match that saw one goal in the first period. Shawn Hnidy scored unassisted for Didsbury II. In the second Didsbury II took a 2 goal lead when Ian McMullen scored unassisted. The only other goal in the period was an unassisted goal by Seth Leonard for Didsbury I to make the score 2 to 1. The third period was just as tight. Didsbury II took a two goal lead again when Shawn Hnidy assisted by Dave Ward scored just 4 minutes into the period. It stayed that way until with 47 seconds left in the game Seth Leonard scored assisted by Robert McNeil. Didsbury I pulled the goalie but could not get the tie.

RELIGION

The Way of Life

Jake Glenn Penner, Superintendent, Koinonia Schools "Glasnost" and Christianity: In Russia - In Canada

"Openness" on Russia's part has revealed the truth about an economy in shambles and a republic in disintegration.

But, what is happening in regard to belief in God in this country of "Atheistic Communism"?

Here are some indications: "Jesus" (a full-length feature movie with script restricted to the words of Jesus taken from the Gospel of Luke) received consistent standing ovations in Russian theatres. One of 11 Russian cosmonauts to see the film stood spontaneously at the end of the showing he saw and said it was time his country welcomed Jesus back to Russia.

Educational officials from Russia and many republics have requested Christian organizations to write Judeo-Christian morals and ethics into school curriculum.

In fact the Association of Christian Schools International has already held two conventions with over 800 Russian teachers teaching them how to address this previously forbidden subject, and 150 such conventions will inservice multitudes of Russian state-school teachers over the next two years.

Vladimir Chubenko, Deputy Chief of the Education Department for the Southern Ukraine, responded positively to the proposal of teaching morals and ethics based on Judeo-Christian principles as found in the Bible. He wants such teaching in the state-run schools and also offered bargains on land for a Christian School.

Evginy Kurkin, a Russian official for youth education, said, "Our country has many problems, however, the greatest problems is that God doesn't (officially) live in our land any longer. Seventy years ago we closed Him out of our country and it has caused so many problems that we cannot count them... We must put God back into our country and we must begin with the children."

Alexi Brudnov, who oversees 65,000 "Pioneer Palaces," read the New Testament through entirely on his first train trip after receiving his own copy of this previously "subversive" and banned Book. Now he is seeking supplies for his multitudes of "Pioneers" because "they have been deprived of even hearing the name of Jesus." He has also invited ACSI to offer training to his staff of 200,000 to teach them how to communicate Christian values to their students.

The destruction of moral fabric is evident economically by the loss of the "work ethic" to "capitalism" is making a comeback.

Russian's moral bankruptcy is also highlighted by the disintegration of the family in Russia. Now organizations such as James Dobson's "Focus on the Family" are also being invited to do just that and to "teach" again these forgotten values.

Much more is happening there--but what about here? What about "Glasnost [openness] and Christianity" in our country?

Personally the author of this article spent three years on the Committee writing the Grade 8 Ethics course (eg. Matthew chapters 5-7) and our Judeo-Christian heritage adequately and respectfully included in the course. This goal is simply not possible in Canada. Can you imagine the "civil rights" noise if it were tried?

What about morality and ethics in our country?

While our history is rooted in Judeo-Christian principles and our education system itself was started by churches and missionaries we now see a major reversal. Jesus and the Bible are officially disbarred as a basis for morality and ethics in Canada.

No basis exists in Canada to deal with AIDS, violence, racism, theft or dishonesty. This country had such a basis but abandoned it. Its citizens still want the benefits and fruits of a society so based but do not want the basis of it. Will Canada survive 70 years without God?

Irina Ratushinskaya, a Russian dissident who spent four years in labor camps as punishment for Christian activities, says

"Our grandparents [in the Soviet Union] believed in God but were forced to give up their faith to save their lives. Our parents, raised in that environment, were atheists for the most part. But my generation is moving toward God."

May we have glasnost here and use its freedoms to move toward God now, before we frustrate several generations without God.

OBITUARIES

CHRISTIANSEN

Kelly Christiansen was born October 2, 1970 at Didsbury. On December 15, 1991 he passed away at his own home on his grandparents' farm southeast of Carstairs.

Although life was taken from Kelly, he was a giver of life to everyone he knew. He was a highlight to life with his big brown eyes and big, but warm smile which would touch your heart.

From his first breath to his first words the love for his family and friends grew and grew.

Kelly started school in 1976 at Didsbury. In 1977 he attended Crossfield School and went back to Didsbury in 1985 when Kelly, his dad, mom and sister moved to his grandparents' farm. Kelly completed high school and graduated from Hugh Sutherland High in Carstairs in 1988. Kelly loved music and loved to dance and he became a drummer in the school and county bands. Also he was active in basketball, badminton and curling.

From there he attended the University of Lethbridge for one year. He then worked in the area for awhile before returning home to live with his parents. He then went to work for Green Drop Fertilizer in Crossfield and recently to Midwest Agro Consolidation at Didsbury. He also helped farm at home and for anyone who needed a hand.

Kelly was always willing and eager to learn new things. He loved the outdoors and animals.

The biggest love next to his family was rodeo. His rodeo life began in 1976 at the age of 6. He got his first horse named Billy Jack. Kelly and his family began rodeoing together and became a team. He began with barrel racing and then team roping with his partner in life for years to come - his dad. His family became part of the Reverse RV Rodeo Club at James River and with the help of many friends he began steer riding and soon joined the Foothills Cowboys Association.

As he got older he helped his dad work the rodeo stock and became an all-around top hand to which he received the Junior Top Hand Award from the Southern Alberta Amateur Rodeo Cowboys Association in 1982. Steer wrestling became his main event and loved it when they called it the Macho Man's Event.

While Kelly attended high school he joined the Alberta High School Rodeo Association where he met some of his idols who became his special friends. While in university he belonged to the Chinook Cowboys Association and on his return to his parents' home, he again joined the Foothills Cowboy Association. This past October was one of Kelly's biggest and proudest moments when he and his dad qualified to go to the Foothills Cowboys Association Cowboys Classic Finals, as contestants in the Wild Cow Milking Contest.

Kelly was proud of his rodeo life with which he began and shared with dad, mom and sister as they all travelled and shared this special part of life together.

Even though Kelly never got to be the rodeo champion he dreamed of being, it was not because of lack of trying or enthusiasm. He will always be a champion in the hearts of his loved ones and the hearts of the countless special friends and friendships he cherished.

He leaves his dad, Delbert, mom, Sharon and sister Michelle of Calgary; grandparents, Evelyn Milne, Didsbury; Chester and Delberta Christiansen, Crossfield; great grandmother Martha Christiansen, Didsbury; uncle Melvin (Lisa) Milne, Didsbury; Aunts, Shirley (Bob) Hedin, Standard; Christine (Ron) Hettinger, Cremona; Courisns, Tara and Kevin Hedin (Jones), Standard; Sharon and Kevin Hehr, Cremona; Ronnie and Gaylynn Hettinger, Cremona; Craig Hedin, Standard, Carrie and Cristina Hedin, Standard. Along with numerous great aunts, uncles, cousins and many many dear and special friends.

Funeral Services were held Friday, Dec. 20, 1991 at the Carstairs United Church, with Bob Aldrich officiating. Interment at Carstairs Cemetery. Active pallbearers were Harley Hutton, Merlin Anderson, Lee McPeak, Lyle Gollay, Lyle German, and Darren Zieffle. Honorary pallbearers were Todd Smith, Edward Schrader, Don Dolan, Slim Weegar, Wes Zieffle, Gary Ledoux.

In lieu of flowers, if desired, memorial donations may be given to the Foothills Cowboy Association Box 766, Nanton, Alberta T0L 1R0

COLEMAN

Allan Coleman passed away in Calgary, December 12, 1991 at the age of 53 years.

He was a man everybody loved. He never said no to anybody, he'd give his last penny, or the shirt off his back. He loved all his stepchildren, took them all like his own. He also loved going to car auctions, and buying old cars, fixing them up and selling them. He never made any money at doing this, it was just a hobby to him. He also loved pulling his little trailer around to his job. He went all out and fixed it up the way he wanted.

This world is going to wait a long time to find another man like Al Coleman. Everybody's going to miss him.

Beloved husband of Diane, and dear father of six children, Kelly and Rosanne, Toronto; Sandra, Lori, Eldon, and Darryl, Calgary; two sisters, Viola (Harold) Bellamy and Mac (Dan) Fear, all of Cremona.

Active pallbearers were Mac Bellamy, Harley Fear, Ken Bellamy, Fabian Corbett, Rex Bellamy, Darryl Hill. Honorary Pallbearers were Stan Tribe, Lavern McNair, Jerry Morningstar, Bob Moore, Jerry Duffy, Max Walter. If desired, memorial donations may be given to the Canadian Cancer Society.

Funeral Services were held Tuesday, December 17, 1991 at Mountain View Funeral Chapel, Olds, Mountain View Funeral Chapels, Olds entrusted with arrangements.

Alberta Special Waste Management Corporation

Season's Greetings

FROM ALBERTA SPECIAL WASTE MANAGEMENT CORPORATION

Amidst all the world change and upheaval, it's not surprising that some of the best news from 1991 failed to make the headlines; in particular, the good news about our environment.

While television cameras captured the high drama of Albertans fighting Kuwait's oil well fires, other Albertans were winning an equally important battle against chemical pollution.

In the past year, the per capita participation of provincial communities in household hazardous waste collection programs outranked North America's major cities - and Alberta's per capita participation was greater than California's.

Alberta businesses and associations demonstrated their commitment by sponsoring programs like Toxic Round Up Alberta, Oil Recovery Alberta and the Great Drug Round Up. And our major industries expanded their on-site waste minimization programs with the help and participation of concerned employees.

In a world of change, Albertans are changing things for the better.

To you and your family, we extend our best wishes for a Peaceful Holiday and a Prosperous New Year.

... and in our community:

Residents of the Reed Ranch area are reminded that the waste transfer station there is now open on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Waste must be sorted before disposal into clean burnables, white metal, metal, wire and banding, tires, household garbage. Fees range from $5 to $20.

THERE'S NO ALTERNATIVE TO CONCRETE

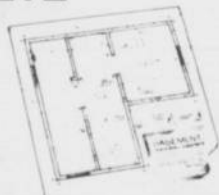

Concrete is the basement building material with all the advantages

It's a proven performer. Rugged. Tough. Durable. A concrete basement will never burn or rot. And concrete is safe. Quality controlled concrete needs no toxic chemicals which may be hazardous to building occupants.

Concrete is an energy wise choice. A concrete basement needs little heat or air conditioning. And concrete walls are easily insulated.

Economically concrete is a good investment. A concrete basement will add years of life to the foundation and considerable dollars to the resale value of your building.

Add up the advantages. There's simply no alternative to quality controlled concrete. The best basement building material.

Ye Olde Curling Rink

Ice spirit of Canada, wide open door, All peoples are welcome, the rich and the poor. A million rock lovers and sweepers alive, The hack brings their hearts into house overdrive. They breathe first for curling where all life begins, A friendship in circles but everyone wins. World champions, casuals, creaky old bones, Rejecting the rule about not throwing stones. Canadians everywhere shot rock alive, A toast or a roast or a happy 'high 5.' There's more living in it than strangers might think, A mighty fine tonic, Ye Olde Curling Rink. —Frank Pavlick

The family and I gratefully acknowledge and extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to relatives, neighbors and friends for their kindness shown in the passing of our husband and father.

For the floral tributes, fruit baskets, numerous cards and gifts of food, to those who made memorial contributions. Words will never seem quite enough to express our appreciation.

To Pastor Harry Johnson for the comforting Memorial Service, we are indeed grateful. To the organist, Mrs. Evelyn Oldridge, for the duet by Larry and Debbie Hooper, for the piano solo by Don Oldridge, we sincerely thank you.

To the ladies of the Mountain View Missionary Church and ladies of the Mountain View W.I. who prepared the lovely lunch, and to the girls who helped serve, "a special thank you."

To the Mountain View Funeral Chapels for services rendered our heartfelt thanks. Maxine, Glenda and Roxanne Ollech, Shelley and Pete Loke 36-1tp

Power rates remain same

Overall electric rates for TransAlta's customers will remain at about their current levels, except for any changes which may arise from increased payments to the Electric Energy Marketing Agency (EEMA). This is in accordance with the Public Utilities Board's decision on TransAlta's General Rate Application for 1991 and 1992 which was handed down December 16.

In the decision, the Public Utilities Board approved a revenue requirement of $1,156.5 million in 1991 and $1,270.7 million in 1992. Based on current rates and not including impending changes to EEMA, the revenue requirement as determined by the Board compared to the revenue generated by existing rates results in a surplus of $23.7 million in 1991 and a shortfall in the range of $22 million in 1992.

"With the exception of any additional Electric Energy Marketing Agency (EEMA) costs and the rate restructuring arising from the EEMA pooling mechanism, TransAlta does not anticipate any significant rate increase in respect of 1992," notes Ross Waldo, Director of Financial Forecasts and Rate Regulatory Affairs.
